R. H. EDDY.

Testimonials.

"I recard R. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners, with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to secure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. The Hundred Dollar Bill.

Mr. John Somers was a merchant, doing business in a thriving country village. He had two clerks in his employ, but with some differences in minor points of character. Peter White was twenty-one years of age, the child of a widowed mother, and in his choice of a profession he had only been governed by the desire to yield to his mother and get the utmost wages for honest support.

Walter Sturgis was of the same age, and equally honest, but he paid more attention to the outward appearances of things, thought his companion. For instance, if called him to go out in the back and overalls, and help back up bags, barrels, and so on; while Peter cared not what he did, so long as he was busy.

One day Mr. Somers called the two young men into his counting room and closed the door carefully. His countenance looked troubled, and it was some moments before he spoke.

"Boys," he said at length, "I have been doing a very foolish thing. I have lent my name to three of my friends, and they have ruined me. I gave them my recommendations, and they promised so earnestly that those notes should not pass their hands save to stave them as I might accept. Of course I took their notes in exchange. They have failed and cleared out, and have left my paper in the market to the amount of seven eight thousand dollars. I may rise again, but I must give up my business. Everything in the store is attached, and I am left utterly powerless to do business now. I have looked over your accounts, and I find that I owe you a hundred dollars each. Now, I have just a hundred dollars in money, and the small piece of land on the side of the hill just back of the town house. There are four acres of land, and I have been offered a hundred dollars for it, by those who have lands adjoining. I feared this blow, which has come upon me, and I conveyed this land to my brother; so now he can convey it to whom he pleases. Now I wish you would make your choice. If I could pay you both honey I would, but as I cannot, one of you must take the land. What say you? You Walter, have been with me longest and you shall say first."

Walter Sturgis hesitated some moments, and he said:

"I am sure I don't want the land, unless I could sell it right off."

"Ah, but that won't do," returned Mr. Somers. "If you take the land you must keep it. We can't sell it, my creditors would see at once that you did it for me, and that I pocketed the money."

"Then I am willing to divide the hundred dollars in the land. My brother will do that. But I imagined that you would prefer the land, for I knew the soil was good though quite hilly. However, what say you Peter?"

"Why I will take the land," returned Peter, "for I will divide equally with Walter—each of us to take half the money and half the land."

"But what should I want with land?" said Walter. "I can't work it. I should hardly like to descend from clerk-ship to digging and driving in blue frock and cowhide boots."

"Then it is easily settled," rejoined Peter, "for I should prefer the land."

Walter was pleased with this, and before night he had the hundred dollar bill in his pocket, and Peter had the warranty deed of the four acres of land upon the hill side. Both of the young men belonged to the village, and had always lived there. It was only five miles from the city, and of course many city fashions were prevalent there. It was under the influence of this fashion that Walter Sturgis refused to have anything to do with the land.

Times were dull and business slack, even though it was early spring. Peter Whites first object, after having got the deed of this land, was to hunt up some kind of work. If he had been a mechanic he might have found some place, but he knew no trade except that of salesman and book-keeping. A whole week he searched in vain for employment, but at the end of that time he found an old farmer who wanted a hand, though he could not afford to pay much. But Peter finally, and with the advice of Mr. Somers, made an arrangement of this kind. He would work for the old farmer (Mr. Stevens) steadily until the ground was open, and he should have half the time to devote upon his own land, and in part payment for his services Stevens was to help about the ox work that the youth might need. Next Peter went to the hotel, where there was quite a stable, and engaged a hundred loads of manure, the landlord promising to take his pay in produce when harvest time came. So Peter White put on a blue frock and cowhide boots and went to work for farmer Stevens.

In the meantime, Walter Sturgis had been to the city to find a situation in some store, but became back bitten. He was surprised when he met Peter driving an ox team through the village. At first he could hardly believe his own eyes. Could it be possible that that was Peter White, in that blue frock and those course boots?

On the next day a relation from the city came to visit Walter. The two walked out, and during the day Walter saw Peter coming towards them with the team. He was hauling lumber which Mr. Stevens had been getting out during the winter. Walter saw how coarse and humble his quondam clerk-mate looked, and he knew that Peter would hail him if they met; so he caught his companion by the arm and dodged into a by-lane. Peter saw the movement and understood it, but he only smiled.

By-and-by the snow was all gone from the hill-side. The winter garb was removed from that spot before it left other places, for Peter's lot lay on the southern slope of the hill, and thus had all the advantage of the warm sun all day, without any of the cold north east winds.

Mr. Stevens was surprised at the richness of the soil, but there was reason for it. At the top of the hill there was a large ledge few weeks he had more than paid for all. Poor Peter he had been obliged to hire off the land.

In the meantime, again Walter Sturgis had been looking after employment. His hundred dollars had been used up to the last penny, and just then he accepted a place in one of the stores in the village, at a salary of three hundred dollars a year. He still wondered how Peter White could content himself in such business. Peter used to be invited to all the little parties when he was a clerk, but he was not invited now. Walter Sturgis went to these parties and was highly edified by them. Also when Peter was a clerk, there were several young and handsome damsels who used to bask in the sunlight of his smiles, and one of them he knew that he loved.

After he had got his hill-side planted. He went to see Cordelia Henderson, and he asked her if she would become his wife at some future period when he was prepared to take such an article to his home. She told him she would think of it and let him know by letter.

Three days afterwards he received a letter from her, in which she stated that she could not think of uniting her destinies with a man who could only delve in the earth for a livelihood. Peter shed a few tears over the unexpected note, and then he reasoned on the subject, and finally blessed his fate, for he was sure that such a girl was not what he needed for a wife.

When the first day of July came, Peter, reckoned up his accounts, and he found that Mr. Stevens was owing him just two dollars, and all he owned in the world was seventy five dollars for manure.

On the third of July he carried to the hotel ten dollars' worth of green peas, beans and radishes; and in three days afterwards he carried to the city twenty-eight dollars' worth. Towards the end of the month he had sold nine hundred and thirty dollars worth of early potatoes, peas, beans, etc. Then he had early corn enough to bring him fifteen dollars more. Ere long his melons were ripe, and a dealer in the city had engaged them all. He had six hundred fair melons, for which he received fourteen cents apiece by the lot, making eighty dollars for the whole.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

MONDAY, March 16, 1868.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

The national debt statement for February, is more favorable than was anticipated.—The funding process is progressing steadily; $18,797,950 being changed from ten to thirty to permanent form during the month. The treasury has paid out in the same period $8,182,212 more gold than it has received, and yet has on hand in cash $3,08,111 more than it had on the first of February. These are good indications, but better far is the actual reduction of the national debt during the month by the handsome sum of $7,185,751. This fact, repeated substantially month after month, is the answer to gloomy prognostications with reference to the business and finances of the country. Actual payment, the wiping out monthly of millions of dollars of debt, is not a matter of theory, is not the sanguine expression of a hope, not a simple deduction from estimates. It is a result, an achievement, an incontestable evidence of vital resources, a removal of burdens, rendering further progress in payment easier and more certain.—The heavy outlay for interest for the half year, disbursed in January, presented a nominal increase in the debt. But it was only nominal. Every month, the resources and income of the treasury exceed the demands upon it; and hereafter these demands are to be steadily reduced. Therefore the taxes can and will be diminished, and the principal of the debt melt gradually before the glowing enterprise and industry of our people.

The resources and productions of the country thus command confidence and repudiate panic mongers. While pleas are made that business and industry await legislation, and require an expansion of the currency, or will utterly fail or perish, the irrepressible energy of Americans adjusts itself to the circumstances, and not only meets all ordinary calls upon it, but pours its taxes into the treasury to remove the burdens of the war, and to silence cavil and astonish financiers by steady payment of the national debt. As yet, we feel nothing of the great reduction of government expenses ordered by the present Congress. In the next fiscal year that will be appreciated.—The tax on whisky is not yet collected as it should be: reformation in that regard, will add two millions a month, and probably more, to the receipts of the treasury. The taxes paid are a measure of the genuine prosperity of the country, under all the disadvantages under which it has been laboring, and a proof which no question can affect, that the industry and business of the country are lusty with strength, and are advancing to new and increasing conquests.

This reduction in the debt will weaken the case of the advocates of inflation, and will hasten the abolition of the taxes on industry. With paper currency not to be increased, with the heaviest burdens of taxation to be speedily removed, Congress has only one thing more to do, to insure commercial and industrial prosperity in an eminent degree, and that is, to insist steadily on the most thorough economy in expenditure in every department. The spring opens with a promise of general activity.—The discouragement which for a time rested on the cotton manufacturers, has given way to encouragement, to higher prices and to an increase of production. The fear of a panic in monetary circles has found no increment by multitudinous failures, and this disappointment encourages faith and hope in quarters where such qualities are not usual. The predictions are almost universal that the coming season is to be one of the most lively and prosperous that this country has ever enjoyed. The marvelous results developed in the national finances is one of the strongest grounds of this confidence.

Leonard W. Jerome was indicted at the present term of the Westchester Court of Sessions for secretly drilling a hole in the Croton aqueduct and inserting therein a pipe through which water was surreptitiously obtained to supply his race course at Fordham. Last Tuesday he was arrested and pleaded guilty whereupon he was fined $150.

MR. EDITOR:—My communication of Monday, March 9th, having failed to elicit any response, I take the liberty to trouble you again, with the request that you will do me the favor to insert the following extract from the will of Governor Benedict Arnold: "Imprimis. And in the first place, I, having full assurance of the infinite mercy of my Almighty Creator unto my soul, do cheerfully and willingly recommend the same into his blessed hands from whom I received it, and by whose grace am made willing to wait his pleasure for my change from this transitory life, unto a life, in and with himself eternally,' and my body unto ye earth, from whence, by ye Almighty power, and decree of ye same God, it was take, willing and appointing, that after my decease, my body may be decently interred, by my Executors hereafter in this writing named, ye charge of said interment to be defrayed out of my personal estate. My body I desire and appoint to be buried at ye North East corner of a parcel of ground containing three rod square, being of, and lying in my land, in or near ye line or path from ye dwelling house leading to my Stone built wind mill, in ye town of Newport, above mentioned; the middle or center of which three rods square of ground, I do and shall be, ye tomb already erected over ye grave of my grandchild, Damaris Goulding, there buried on the fourteenth day of August, 1677, and I desire that my dear and loving wife Damaris Arnold, after her death, may be buried near unto me, on ye South side of ye place above said, reserved for my own interment, and I do order my Executors to erect decent tombs over her grave and my grave in such convenient time, as it may be effectually accomplished, and further I do hereby Solemnly Prohibit ye selling or otherwise disposing of, said three rods square of ground, or any part thereof, but that it be wholly reserved to ye use of my kindred relations, for so many of them as shall please to bury their dead in the said ground and therefore do order and appoint, that they shall have from time to time on all such occasions, to and from, ye said burying place free egress and regress, without any molestation from any that shall severed me in ye land where it."

I take this from Mr. C. E. Hammett's pamphlet on the old stone mill, taken from copy made by Wm. Coddington Jr. Town Clerk 1752.

Again Sir, allow me to ask, where are the monuments that bestred this reservation, (in perfectly good and legible condition) not ten years ago, and by what authority have they been removed, and every vestige of this solemn reservation swept away?

I take the liberty to suggest that it is the duty of the city authorities to enquire into this matter, and as far as may be to remedy the wrong. OBSERVER.

It is stated that the number of Irish emigrants to the United States during the month of February had undergone a considerable decrease when compared with that of several previous months. An explanation is given in the fact that the Emperor of Brazil has long been anxious to establish in Southern Brazil an Irish Catholic colony, and that the Chevalier de Almeida, the commercial agent for Brazil, and his agent, have been very active in getting together suitable emigrants for the "new Ireland." On the 12th of February the ship Florence Chipman sailed from the Mersey for Rio Janeiro with about 300 emigrants for Brazil, this being the first batch of the 5000 or 8000 souls which will embark for Southern Brazil during the present year.

An experiment was tried on Monday to blow up the ice at Albany with gunpowder: but owing to the dampness of the powder the result was unsatisfactory. A canister, containing about seven pounds of powder, was placed under the ice, and discharged by means of a fuse. About twenty yards square of ice was blown up, some of it ascending fifteen to twenty feet. Quite a body of water was thrown up with the ice. The ice proved to be between two and three feet in thickness, and very solid.

One more unfortunate has been testing petroleum in Springfield, Ohio. A servant girl saturated a newspaper with the innocent fluid and used it in kindling a fire. A can of the rock oil was at her elbow, and it blew up enveloping the poor girl in flames and inflicting terrible burns. Thanks to a good constitution she may recover, but the accident, has nevertheless, an instructive moral. There was a fault somewhere either in the newspaper or the oily vessel. If the printed sheets used belonged to Vallandigham's special organs we cannot blame the unfortunate maiden. They are excellent for kindlings but they must be handled with care as they are always blowing up somebody or something. Petroleum may be innocent, and so may be Kerosene, but in these exciting days, if people will use democratic newspapers for lighting their fires, they should be careful to keep other explosive materials at a proper and safe distance.

About Home.

THE ADDRESS of the Rev. Mathew Hale Smith at the Second Baptist church last evening was attended by a large and attentive audience. The Rev. Mr. Malcom introduced the speaker in a neat and appropriate manner giving an explanation of the way in which Mr. Smith was present to speak in his stead.

The speaker, at the conclusion of Mr. Malcom's remarks entered upon his theme of the evening which was somewhat more general than the usual themes of temperance addresses and included an exposition of the work of evangelization being carried on in England and in this country for the moral improvement of the lowly and degraded among the lower classes of society. Mr. Smith gave a graphic and affecting history of the origin and progress of this work in both countries and especially of the powerful and which had been received by the means of lay preachers—men sometimes converted from the mire and filth of the gutter, and who under the powerful influences and chastening reformatory work of the Holy Spirit, became ministers to the masses and preached Christ and Him crucified in a manner that reached the masses of the people as no regularly ordained clergy were enabled to do. The discourse throughout abounded in the most interesting and pathetic appeals founded upon the most affecting facts, which moved the hearts and eyes of the whole audience.

At the conclusion of the address, a contribution was taken up in aid of the mission in the city of New York. The exercises were interspersed with good singing and the audience separated, after the benediction, highly pleased with the evenings discourse and feeling that it had been good to be there.

M., at which time it will again form and proceed to St Mary's Hall where a lecture on Ireland will be delivered by the Rev. E. A. O'Conor, and the services of the day will be concluded by a selection of National airs by Prof. Stack's Band.

ROW.—Saturday evening a couple of Roughs, one named Alexander Cunin, came down from Fall River for the purpose of making a disturbance, with David and John Case, who live on Long Wharf. The attempt in the early part of the evening was interrupted by the police. At about 10 o'clock he returned, and renewing the attack was severely handled. No weapons other than fists and heels were used. But had it not been for the arrival of the watch he would no doubt have received fatal injuries. He was taken to the Park House where he lies in a critical condition.

BAD ROADS.—The Fall River stage arrived in this city Saturday, at 8½ o'clock in the evening, having been three hours in making the last six miles.

Persons from the Island, report the roads in as bad condition as has been known for many years.

FAMILY BROIL.—Saturday evening at about 11 o'clock a domestic difficulty occurred in a house on William St. Cries of "Watch" soon restored the peace without the assistance of the authorities.

PERSONAL.—George T. Hammond, formerly proprietor, and Charles L. F. Albiston, lately foreman of the Newport Daily News, are connected with the business department of Every Afternoon, a new evening paper which is to be started in New York on Tuesday.

EXCURSION.—Those of our citizens who wish to attend Prof. Soule's Concert at Taunton, on Wednesday evening can obtain excursion tickets by calling on Henry T. Root at his place of business, either today or to morrow.

FALSE ALARM.—The alarm of fire on Saturday evening originated in the row on Long Wharf, the particulars of which will be found elsewhere.

A Detroit reporter complains of his compositor that in an article on the city poor wherein he spoke of the great number of persons reduced to beggary by "the mysterious decrees of Providence," the man of types made it "mysterious decrease of provisions."

ARRESTED.—John Case, and John Mahoney were arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing the robes from the team of Mr. Bradford, the loss of which was reported in the News a few days since. One of the lost robes was recovered Saturday night, together with a lot of lost and stolen articles on the premises of Case, Long Wharf.

THEATER THEFT.—The workmen upon the basement of the house, corner of Spring and Mary Streets, this morning discovered a pot of spurious coins. They were dated 1853, one hundred and fifty in number, and all made of a composition to counterfeit silver.

DRUNK.—Three soldiers from Fort Adams were in the Watch House last night for being drunk.

HOW GIFT CONCERTS ARE MANAGED.—A case occurred in the Newark police court yesterday, which showed how gift concerts are managed. Last week a negro minstrel troupe performed in Library Hall and drew crowded houses by advertising that a fifty dollar bill would be given to one of the audience each evening. An arrangement was made with men to draw the money and return most of it to the managers of the company; but one of the men who drew fifty dollars one evening, refused to give up the money. The manager was too shrewd to make any trouble, but after the company left the city the janitor of the hall—who was to have received a part of the prize—secreted the fortunate possessor of the money, and took some of it away from him. The janitor was arrested and the cheat exposed. Newark has been noted for its support of gift enterprises and third-rate performances, but it is probable that in future swindlers will not care as well in that city.

CONGRESSIONAL.—The United States Senate was not in session on Saturday. The House of Representatives met for general debate. Speeches were made upon the question of an appropriation for the purchase of Alaska, upon various financial topics, and upon impeachment. Considerable debate occurred regarding the bill recently passed by the House repealing so much of the act of February 5th, 1867, as allows appeals in habeas corpus cases to the Supreme Bench.

Song of Iron.
I am mighty in the valley,
Heavily wielded by the brawny;
Glorious in the stalwart sinews,
Laughing at the storm and wave.

Beauteous in the palace pillars,
Swing in the painted roof,
As it brings the deadly lightning
Quelled and harmless to the roof.

But there is a glorious message,
Where I take my greatest power,
Giving to the weak my succor,
Succor and aid, in danger's hour.

See! before me fly diseases!
See the darkness by me blown!
See the rose of health and beauty
Take the pale cheek and brow.

Fly, dyspepsia! fly consumption!
Yes, all ills are crushed of length;
For I give what human nature
Only ever needed—vital strength!

Shall I tell in what great mystery
I can thus your spirits cheer up?
Pallid, trembling, dying sufferer,
'Tis the force I "PERUVIAN SYRUP."

The PERUVIAN SYRUP is a protoxide solution of the Protoxide of Iron, a new discovery in medicine that strikes at the root of disease by supplying the blood with its vital principle or life element—iron.

TELEGRAMS.

TROUBLE IN TENNESSEE,

Despatch from Major-General Thomas to General Grant.

Organized Resistance to the Laws.

ORDER FROM GENERAL GRANT.

(Special Despatch to the Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, March 14.

An excitement was created here this morning by the reception of news from Tennessee that troubles are likely to occur in that state.

Yesterday afternoon General Grant received a brief despatch from Major-General Thomas, stating that the enemies of the present state government in Tennessee were organizing for resistance to the laws to get control of the state.

General Thomas asked for immediate instructions. His telegram to General Grant assured the latter that these statements were positively founded on movements of the rebels and the supporters of the President.

Without delay, General Grant telegraphed to General Thomas to use all the forces at his command to preserve peace and protect the state authorities in the execution of the laws, to the fullest extent, and to report if more troops were needed.

Nothing additional has been heard this morning.

ABYSSINIA. EGYPTIAN RE-ENFORCEMENTS.

LONDON, March 15.—Despatches were received last night from Abyssinia. General Napier was about to send out a reconnoitering party to Lake Ashangee, in the Tigre district. The Pasha of Egypt showed no disposition to withdraw his forces from Abyssinia as requested by the British Government; on the contrary, the Egyptians in camp at Massowah had received considerable reinforcements from the North.

JEFF DAVIS COMING NORTH.

NEW YORK, March 16.—A special despatch, dated Havana, yesterday, says: "Jefferson Davis has arrived here on the steamer Cuba from New Orleans, on his way to Baltimore. Captain General Lersundi is at Cardenas."

SERENADE.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Generals Sickles and Cochrane last night received the compliment of a Serenade at the Brevoort House, in recognition of their services in the recent political campaign in New Hampshire. Appropriate congratulatory speeches were made by these gentlemen.

$500 WILL BE FORFEITED BY DR. S. DIX that he does not cure more cases than any other physician, more effectually and permanently, with less restraint from occupation or loss of expense to all who offer, within the most pleasant residence.

BOTH SEXES, SINGLE OR MARRIED.

DR. I. DIX'S
PRIVATE MEDICAL OFFICE,
No. 21 Endicott Street, Boston, Mass.,

Is so arranged that patients never see or hear each other. Besides the only entrance to the Office is No. 21, having no connection with the residence, consequently no family intrusion, so that one may consult or be examined by the physician without fear of meeting a patient.

DR. DIX

Is the only one in the country, Boston, except himself, who will do a large amount of business, to improve upon patronizing the best.

Is the only regular graduate physician advertising in Boston.

SIXTEEN YEARS

engaged in treatment of Special Diseases, a fact well known to many 1000 men, Postmasters, Merchants, Hotel Proprietors, &c., throughout the country, and particularly to Strangers and Travelers.

Towards whom a large Depository of Testimonials and Nine Quarts, from Gentlemen in Boston, can be seen by any one.

DR. I. DIX

Specially refers to Professors and respectable Practitioners, many of whom consult him in difficult cases, for cures of Life-long standing and reputation, attained through long experience, patient and observation.

AFFLICTED AND UNFORTUNATE!

In addition to the valuable advice to be obtained by the dying hearts, most consultations, free of charge and perfect secrecy.

FOREIGN AND NATIVE QUACKS,

who by an abuse of the talents and confidence of Spurious Diplomas, and trade on their name, Secret Medicines, Diplomas of Institutions of Other Cities, and who never existed in any part of the world; others exhibit Diplomas of the Dead, long established, but only assuming and advertising in names of those included in the Diplomas, but to find out the living, assume names of other most celebrated Physicians of long standing. Neither be deceived by through false certificates and testimonials, by inventing testimonials of their effects, but not stating who are the persons, or, contradicted if any, or why, besides, to further their Impositions, copy from the Medical Journals that is written of the qualities and effects of the Medicines, Diplomas, and Institutions of the Dead, Fill, Bitters, Specifics, Amulets, &c., which are of no value, to gull the Sick, Ignorant Minority, by proof of the actual effects of the "quacking everything." But "you know not what you are more than it cures," and those not killed, should be totally injured for life.

IGNORANCE OF QUACK DOCTORS AND NOSTRUM MAKERS,

Through the Ignorance of the Quack Doctors, knowing no other remedy, they in their Secret Manuals, and given it to all the patients in Pills, Drops, Specifics, Nostrum Makers, equally ignorant, mixed in their Extracts, Specifics, Amulets, &c., which are supposed to effect in curing a few in a hundred, it is transported in various ways throughout the home land, and used by a vast of the balance, some of whom die, others grow worse, and not left to life, or cured, if ever, by some great physician.

BUT ALL QUACKS ARE NOT IGNORANT.

Notwithstanding the foregoing facts, so known to some Quack Doctors and Nostrum Makers, yet regardless of the Sick and Healthy Sufferers, there are those among them who will perform the most difficult operations, giving to their particular or their Nostrums, or that the "quacking" may be claimed for popularity, or "the dollar" or "reputation of the man" is called for the Nostrum. It is from that many are deceived also, as I unknowingly special large amounts for experiments with, or to keep.

DR. I. DIX'S

charges are very moderate. Consultations free, strictly confidential, and all may rely on their advice, treatment and medicines, whether near by the distance, condition or situation of life may be married or single.

Peerless Cooking Stove.

HEAR what the Boston Journal says of this superior article:

Among the peculiar merits claimed for this stove is the complete ventilation and even temperature of the oven, making it a roasting rather than a baking oven, which is secured by a specially constructed air-chamber, which heats the air as it passes down behind the fire pot and into the oven, causing the oven to bake or roast perfectly and evenly, a great deideratum with a careful housewife; also the perfect control which can be kept over the fire, and its cleanliness. This stove works equally well with coal or wood. These stoves are of different sizes, and are made plain or with an extension top, the latter being made with a large reservoir for hot water on the top and a warming closet underneath. Those of our readers who would like to keep up with the times would do well to call and examine this "Peerless stove." Sole agent in Newport,

Oxygenized Air,

A CURE FOR

CATARRH

AND DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

Applied by

DR. C. L. BLOOD,

No. 9 Montgomery Place,

BOSTON, MASS.

Why are certain diseases the most difficult to be obtained? We meet them every day who are suffering from Catarrh to such an extent, that the Air Passages in the head are in a partly decomposed condition—the nose and throat filled with such a mass of a vegetable matter that they are objects of disgust to themselves, and of pity to those with whom they associate.

Catarrh attacks actually affects the head, throat and bronchial tubes. It is invariably caused by humoral or inflammatory blood, by which the mucous membranes become swollen or indurated, producing a copious secretion of viscid matter. It is produced by Scrofula in the blood, is almost certain to lead to Consumption, unless speedily cured. Because it is impossible to entirely prevent the matter from trickling down the bronchial tube into the air vesicles, and such is the excoriating, or scalding property of the matter, on contact with the delicate linings of the air cells it once causes irritation, and invites the immediate properties of the blood to deposit tubercles and ulcers.

Catarrh should always affect the Consumption, and frequently leads to it.

In Oxygenized Air we have a positive cure for this disease. The remedy is taken by inhalation—breathed directly into the lungs, and through the nostrils into the blood; thus as soon as the blood circulates it, it acts upon all parts of the system, destroying the impure matter in the blood and expelling it through the pores, and through the natural channels from the system. Thus you will see that the cause of the disease is removed, and the disease finds no more below.

Dr. C. L. Blood's treatment has been successfully used in Bronchitis and Consumption. Let no one despair, there is a remedy, a certain remedy, and a powerful remedy, while a description of your symptoms will forward to the address below.

Send for our circular, which gives a description of these diseases.

Out of the many testimonials in the hands of the proprietor we publish the following:

Dr. C. L. Blood—

Dear Sir—I desire to give you my testimony regard to the value of your scientific system of treating Catarrh and Diseases of the Respiratory organs. I have used your remedy, "Oxygenized Air" in my practice for the last year with complete success. I have cured the worst forms of Catarrh, and a majority of the cases of Bronchitis and Consumption in their advanced stages. I unquestionably pronounce "Oxygenized Air" the greatest boon ever yet offered upon our suffering race, and I hope the day is not far distant when every intelligent physician will adopt your system in the treatment of all forms of chronic affections.

Fraternally yours,

L. M. LEE, M. D.
No. 160 Westminster Street, Providence.

Dr. C. L. Blood—

Mr. Dear Sir—I have tested your system of "Oxygenized Air" in advanced cases of Catarrh, Bronchitis and Consumption, and the results have been in the highest degree satisfactory and positive. I feel the wonderful power in arresting the progress of the above named diseases, that I can conscientiously advise all who may be suffering from them to place themselves under your treatment at once.

Yours truly,

REV. E. TOMLINSON.

PRICE ADVANCED--PAR & INTEREST

THE

Central Pacific Railroad

THE BEST AND CENTRAL PORTION OF THE

National Trunk Line Across the Continent is being rapidly carried forward by an unprecedented working force, and it is reasonably certain that the CONTINUOUS OVERLAND RAILROAD CONNECTION FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO WILL BE MADE IN 1870.

The United States Government furnishes, upon a subordinate and contingent lien, half the means for constructing the Main Stem Line; and besides an absolute grant of 12,800 acres of valuable public land per mile, the Central Pacific Railroad Company have received from California aids, donations and concessions worth more than $5,000,000. The available resources of this Company are therefore abundant for the purpose, amounting to $27,000,000 on the first 700 miles of the Line, including loans secured by a First Mortgage upon the whole property, to the same extent only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds.

The results already attained, although the Line is partially incomplete, are such as to afford substantial grounds for believing the CENTRAL PACIFIC to be the Most Favored, Productive, and Valuable Railroad Enterprise in the Country.

In consequence of the large and rapidly increasing demand, the price of these Bonds has been advanced, and the Company are now offering for sale, a limited amount of their

First Mortgage Six Per Cent. Bonds,

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold Coin, in sums of $1,000 each, at par and accrued interest from January 1st, in currency.

These Bonds, it is believed, possess the elements of safety, profitableness and profit, in a greater degree than any other class of Corporate Securities now offered, and are therefore very desirable for steady investments of surplus capital.

Investors will bear in mind the following advantages:

I. They are the first mortgage bonds of the most valuable and productive line of railroad in the world.

II. The actual earnings now exceed twice and three times the interest on the bonds.

III. The hard part of the work is now done, and the prospects of rapid completion are favorable.

IV. The Company have liberal subsidies, which enable them to prosecute the work with great vigor.

V. The management has been successful, prudent and economical.

VI. There is still a large and growing settlement on the road, both and east of the.

VII. The land grants are of immense value, 12,800 acres having already sold.

VIII. Both principal and interest are explicitly made payable in gold coin.

IX. Both the aggregate amount of issue and their standing in Europe will insure for them continued security and a high rank as a standard security.

At the time they yield nearly

NINE PER CENT. UPON THE INVESTMENT.

The low Government Securities have so greatly advanced in price, leading them for Central Pacific Bonds, that the net equivalent of interest, with the principal absolutely secured, and of realizing a profit of from ten to fifteen per cent in a few months.

Orders sent with the cash through responsible Banks or Express Companies will meet a prompt attention. Bonds sent by return Express, to any address in the United States, at our cost. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, Maps, &c., furnished on application at our office, or at the Railroad Company.
